Barrie, ON – March 05, 2010 – NetGain SEO has welcomed a Georgian College Co-op student to their team. Kim Banks is currently enrolled in the three year Graphic Design Diploma program at the college. She will be graduating in April and is grateful for the opportunity to expand her skill set and professional working experience in the field of web and graphic design.

The Georgian College design program works to develop print, production and web skills. Using the latest standards in design technology the program refines student creativity, introduces practical business skills, industry experience and a greater depth of instruction in design.

Kim Banks has several years of experience in advertising, marketing and design. Kim is a dedicated student; making the Dean's list for the first and second year of the program. Committed to excellence in graphic design Kim brings a willingness to conquer any task and does so with tenacity and due diligence. She has already worked on WordPress blog forums promotional and print material for NetGain clients.

NetGain was founded in 2008 as an advanced web and graphic services company. NetGain specializes in making websites that are easily found on major search engines, such as, Google. Using modern search engine optimization techniques, state-of-the-art layout and graphic design tools they create clean, searchable sites.

According to Drew Dekker, Vice President, "We are pleased to have Kim on board. With the rapid rate of growth our company is experiencing we appreciate the help which Kim and Georgian College has provided us."
